

Feeling Strong, Alive, Healthy & wanna Stay that way ?

Congratulations - you've found your code , you've jail broken your potential .

You've slipped into your sweet spot ...but how did you do it ?
Remember - nothing can exist without an environment for it to exist in.
Look at your daily routine - consider how you've recently budgeted your time , energy & attention. All of these contributed to creating a very specific atmosphere / environment within you. These behavior , hobbies & habits act as a 3 digit combination that unlocks the intended Freedom, Power & Peace you need in order to fulfill purpose. Within this environment you'll find contentment coupled with power. You'll find ease combined with divine participation.

This arena you've found yourself in is not to be taken lightly - it's your Life Hack & you don't have to lose it to appreciate it. Take a moment *now & commit to memory the ingredients of your present life & formulate a plan to preserve them. Many can acquire "temporary joy" or taste bliss for a moment > but who will maintain it , who will truly occupy this space & implant it as a New-Norm ?

Whatever you acquire Requires Maintenance. If you are living the life of your dreams - now is the time to transcribe everything that is feeding it and making it possible. Of course, i know life can hit us with unexpected changes & we may not be able to keep the same people, same job or live in the same city - but what we can do right now is : identify the [unique offering] that those people, that Job and that city supply us with and do our due diligence to hold space for the next person, next job or next city that offers the same or similar ingredients.

Listen ... God may have assigned the destiny but you've been given control over ...
